

Let God Prevail

Take the next few minutes to prepare a brief thought about submitting to the will of God. Your thought should include an example of submission from the scriptures or from your life or the life of someone you know. It might also include how we could apply that example in our lives. Consider using one of the following resources as you prepare:

- Section 2 of the preparation material, which discusses covenant making and keeping
- One of the scripture accounts (of Naaman, Mary, or Enoch) found in section 3 of the preparation material

— — — — —

Take the next few minutes to prepare a brief thought about submitting to the will of God. Your thought should include an example of submission from the scriptures or from your life or the life of someone you know. It might also include how we could apply that example in our lives. Consider using one of the following resources as you prepare:

- Section 2 of the preparation material, which discusses covenant making and keeping
- One of the scripture accounts (of Naaman, Mary, or Enoch) found in section 3 of the preparation material

— — — — —

Take the next few minutes to prepare a brief thought about submitting to the will of God. Your thought should include an example of submission from the scriptures or from your life or the life of someone you know. It might also include how we could apply that example in our lives. Consider using one of the following resources as you prepare:

- Section 2 of the preparation material, which discusses covenant making and keeping
- One of the scripture accounts (of Naaman, Mary, or Enoch) found in section 3 of the preparation material

— — — — —

Take the next few minutes to prepare a brief thought about submitting to the will of God. Your thought should include an example of submission from the scriptures or from your life or the life of someone you know. It might also include how we could apply that example in our lives. Consider using one of the following resources as you prepare:

- Section 2 of the preparation material, which discusses covenant making and keeping
- One of the scripture accounts (of Naaman, Mary, or Enoch) found in section 3 of the preparation material