

Where I stand //

I've been down on my hands and knees trying to find what's best for me been there done that soul searching asking god if this paths for me I've tried many different things to find out if I believe and it seems so strange how my answer slowly came

I got a feeling in my spine butterflies Succumbing my mind slowly clearing that he was there listening to me

All the questions and the pain washed away from peace that came from a simple answer now my faith is stronger I don't have to wonder what my plan is cuz I know that I am loved yeah I know
where I stand

There are times in life where things just start to slow down you just can't figure yourself out Yeah your sad all of the time have no choice but to cry yeah your hurting inside

But what if I told you there's a way to get rid of the pain yeah no more sorry empty days you will be ok

All the questions and the pain washed
don't have to wonder what my plan is
where I stand

I don't have my future mapped out pin to pin but I'm not worrying cuz I know the spirit will guide me in the direction and lead me back to him again

All the questions and the pain washed
don't have to wonder what my plan is
where I stand
